President Teresa DeSautell

Hello from windy, west Texas!
Except it's been hot and dry this summer unless you count the 6+ inches we got in May (all in one day) or the 5+ inches plus a small tornado in July (again all in one day)! Either way we are always thankful for the rain!!!
Summer, for us, is all about chores. Don't forget how important this is. Clean is good, clean is healthy, clean is for the long haul. Or at least that's what I keep telling myself! It's definitely a chore but one that needs to be done. Afterwards you will feel like you made a huge accomplishment because for one thing you are tired, like you've never been tired before! It's like a relief that you did something good, something worthwhile, something that will last.
So…I want to talk about LEADERSHIP. What is that? It has always been a chore; but where does it fit in with what you are going to do with it or the way in which you want it to go? Stepping up into leadership is a chore but without it you don't have anything. You can apply this to all areas of your life. We all wear different hats: work, family, church, friends, memberships, fun, etc. (not necessarily in that order). What role are you going to take??? What I see and hear are complaints sometimes but those that complain (it seems) don't want to step up into leadership and be constructive and want to make changes to what they are upset about. I won't bore you with the little details, but instead of grumbling and complaining step up and do something about it. TRBA is just that, it is made up of regular people wearing many hats that step up and take responsibility. We don't always make the perfect decision when we are in that role (because we are wearing a lot of different hats), but we try to do the best we can with what we have.
I'm asking you…to step up and join the leadership team. It's a chore, it's not always easy or fun but in the long run it can be very rewarding! For your information, elections are always held at TRBA state shows BUT you have to apply to run long before that. Some of the positions available this next year will be president, secretary, and director positions. The deadline to apply for them is due October 1st of every year. The form can be found on our website https://www,trba,net or contact Amber Tondre for more information. I challenge you… if you are unhappy with the way things are done with the organization the best thing to do is be the one to set up and make the difference you want to see.

Vice President Tammy Wheat

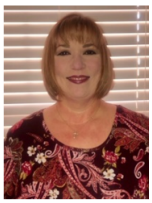
Hot, hot, hot and the drought! I love summer and I love hot weather, but this is a bit more than even I normally enjoy. Rabbit chores are brutal during these hot months. I know we are all working hard to keep the rabbits safe, but don't forget about the humans! Drink lots of water, kidney stones are a beast.

My barns are a/c climate controlled, and they are struggling in these triple digit days. I try to be diligent in cleaning the filters and use extra cut to fit filters over the integrated filters. A few days I've had to just go out and spray the a/c units with water to cool down them down. My neighbor put an oscillating fan on his home outdoor units so they could keep up! I will struggle when the power bill arrives this month, not to mention the water bill from trying to keep my lawn alive.

Feed is always my nemesis. I do need to learn more about rabbit nutrition. It is on my list. If you have recommendations on articles, I would love to hear from you. I did find a little gem that most of you probably already know about, and that is beet shreds. I called my feed mill and described some of the symptoms that my herd was presenting and he said to add fiber. I did a little research and found that beet shreds offer mostly digestible fiber without the added starch and sugars from other supplements that can throw off your feed balance. So far so good, my rabbits eat it well and they are doing better.

Belton or bust! I always look forward to MidTex shows and this one is just around the corner. I received my Fort Worth Stock Show newsletter today. There is a cool breeze at the end of this inferno.

Secretary Amber Tondre



Hello from South Central Texas! In case you haven't noticed, it's HOT! We've had record-breaking temperatures here more often than not lately and are doing everything we can to keep our animals alive and as cool as possible.

As I'm sure you are aware, Convention is quickly approaching. I know that is hard to think about right now, but it will be here before we know it. Of course, it's too soon to plan on what animals you might want to enter, but you can plan other things – your hotel room, if you haven't already booked it, how you (and your rabbits) will get there, what banquets to attend, and maybe start a list of the supplies you will need during your trip. Youth – it's time to study for your Youth Contests if you haven't been already. Team Texas did well last year, and I know you will be just as strong, if not stronger, this year. We are excited to go back to Reno this year and are looking forward to seeing you all there!

If you are interested in running for an office with the TRBA, the Petition for Candidacy is on the website under Forms. Petitions are due postmarked to me by October 1st. Please refer to the Constitution and Bylaws (on the website under Member) if you have further questions.

It is also time to start thinking about who you would like to see as the next Open and Youth Breeders of the Year. Please find the rules for nomination on the website under BOTY. Nomination letters are due postmarked to me by December 31st.

As always, I want to remind you to be aware of when your memberships expire. If you can't find your card or have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask me. Remember – the CBL states that you have 30 days past your due date to pay your membership or it is terminated. I would much rather you pay your membership on time than risk having to start over because of a late payment.

Fall will come soon and with it the return of fall rabbit shows. Hopefully cooler weather will not be too far behind the shows. As of the middle of July, I have yet to receive any TRBA sanction requests for this Fall. Show Secretaries, please get your TRBA sanction requests in so we can help promote your shows!

While I always look forward to the summer show break (as does my pocketbook), I also always look forward to getting back to the shows in the fall. I truly enjoy visiting with and getting to know our members. Please feel free to ask me questions or simply say hello the next time we are at a show.

Enjoy the rest of your summer!

Treasurer Gay Sparks

Hello to All,

I am sure everyone is suffering from this heat wave and doing all they can to keep the rabbits alive. I know lots of breeders have AC with fans and are worried about the power staying on. There are still some that have their animals outside and are really struggling to manage just to keep them alive. Please if you know of any new breeders that are trying to manage, contact them and offer some suggestions. We as seasoned breeders need to share our knowledge, which leads me to the next topic.

I am kind of embarrassed at the attitude and behavior of some of our breeders. I see newbies just wanting to talk and visit to gain some experience and knowledge about their breed, to then be brushed off by the breeder. I still hear of the horror stories of newbies being sold culls with the hopes of winning on the tables, only to be laughed at by others. I know this happens in every species, but it amazes me when I find out who is the behind these instances. I understand selling an animal and then it becomes ill or a DQ is found out later (broken toe, eye problem). This is usually rectified by the breeder and the animal is replaced but to sell something that you KNOW is not top quality is inexcusable. In the past, I have called a breeder and questioned them as to why they sold a particular animal knowing it was poor quality. In most cases they have replaced the animal and made it right with the buyers. Think about it next time you go to sell and animal, would you show it in your name?

There are no financials in this issue. My laptop is in the shop with the hopes of it being repaired and recovered. I don't have time to load everything to a new one and get everything updated. I will send the BOD an update once I have all the information.

Director Katie Finch

Greetings from Hot and Hotter Central Texas!
I'm ready for fall, y'all! I hope you are all keeping yourselves and your rabbits/cavies cool in this heatwave! I don't know about you, but we're using the off season to sharpen some of our random rabbit knowledge as my eldest studies for his Registrar's exam. I encourage each of you to set a goal for the upcoming season and start working toward achieving it! This can be anything from improving your understanding of your breed's standard, to studying for an exam (Registrar tests are FUN - Right!?), to something within your rabbitry, to developing a mentor relationship with someone. If we aren't working on improving our own knowledge and relationships, it is easy to become stagnant and burn out.
At the same time, sometimes your goal needs to be simply: Keep Going. We all have various stresses and hiccups in our lives that are overwhelming and can make the smallest of tasks seem monumental. If you're at a Keep Going stage, I feel you. If my kids would let me, I'd be there too (except they won't so instead we study for exams). But like all things, this too will pass. (Sometimes like a kidney stone, but it will pass!)
In another vein… Youth exhibitors will be pounding down doors soon in search of their 4H projects - please help them and be a positive impact on their show experience! We started at ARBA shows because we had to miss our local county show. I'm so glad we did, but if we hadn't had the positive experience we did (or the invitations to join clubs and learn more!), we likely wouldn't have kept at it. I'm glad we were started with great rabbits by people who cared about kids' experiences within the hobby!
Stay Cool and Have Fun!

Director John Terry

As I'm sitting here, my mind is laying out the things that need to get done when the sun comes up. The heat has been horrible, but the barns have managed to stay cool. With a few shows during the summer heat, please remember to keep your animals as cool as possible while going from your vehicle to the show barn. Most importantly, remember to enjoy your day at the rabbits show.
I want to touch on a few things concerning how much clubs need help putting on shows for your enjoyment. We all love a well-run show. Lack of the basic help can keep a show from getting done at a decent time. The days of comment cards are being replaced by a control sheet. Everyone should be willing to at least take placements for the breed you raise. Load the tables. The smallest things can help all these clubs get you and everyone out at a decent time. Step up and learn, and I promise you it is not that hard to take placements.
Next thing is pick up your own trash and clean up your area. We are not your Mother!!! We want to go home just as much as you do after Bis and the trailer is loaded. No one wants to pick up dirty diapers, coke bottles an chewing gum off the floor. Please leave your area like you found it on Friday afternoon when you showed up.
There are many thankless jobs with putting on a show. Months of planning to find a date that doesn't conflict with your club members and other clubs, hiring judges, finding a venue to host the show and then what breeds to sanction. I challenge you to get involved, join a club or two. Pay your dues to become a voting member. Help anyway you can. There are not as many clubs today as there were 25 years ago. We need to keep moving forward, and we do that with your help.

Hello TRBA members,

Summer is in full swing now and the heat has been brutal for people and animals alike. With this heat it is imperative that you have a means to keep your animals cool. For our barn we have four drum fans and two of the large portacools inside an insulated building. In our previous barns we needed to keep an abundance of frozen 2 liter bottles for larger animals and 20oz bottles for the smaller breeds. I have been told that freezing ceramic or porcelain tiles works as well for the rabbits to lay on to help stay cool. Just remember we as humans have the ability to move to cooler areas or go into air conditioning, where as the animals can only stay in their cages so it is our responsibility as breeders to do all that we can to keep them safe and healthy.

I hope our youth members are working on their applications and studying for their events at the convention in Reno. The entries for these contests need to be postmarked by August 20th or submitted online in the portal by September 1st. You can find the information on the contests in the youth section at arba.net. It looks like we have a lot of youth that are interested in competing in Reno. If you have any questions about the youth contests please feel free to reach out and we will get you the answers you need.

I hope everyone has their nest boxes filled with babies for the upcoming fall shows and for the national convention!

Director Beth Manglberger-Hughes

The Downs and Ups of Raising Rabbits

As this crazy, hot June/July of 2022 is baking us I have listened to everything that rabbitry owners are doing to try and save their herds… frozen water bottles, cool tiles, misters, evaporative coolers and much more. I am personally not leaving my farm any afternoon until this passes. Remember the power grid failure in the Texas snow storm of 2021 when we all tried heating pads, heat lamps, and I personally moved to my travel trailer beside my barn and jockeyed nest boxes back and forth day and night. Unfortunately, I have heard the cries of the owners who have experienced the tragedies of losing their bunnies to extreme heat or cold. It's so dreadful.

Please hang in there. Remember the joy when you got that first successful litter, how happy you or your child were after receiving your first blue ribbon, and the smiles and hugs you receive as you greet your rabbit family at a show.

I want to encourage those who have the means to attend an ARBA Convention like the one October 30 - November 2 in Reno, Nevada. There are soooo many rabbits to see and rabbit breeders to meet. With careful consideration, there are quality animals to be evaluated and maybe brought back to your rabbitry. There are usually youth activities and sightseeing excursions as well.

For those exhibitors who attended national shows for their respective breeds this spring, I hope you had a great time and represented Texas well. Since I raise primarily New Zealands, I want to give a big congratulations to Loyd and Karen Morgan on their Best of Breed New Zealand White at the 2022 New Zealand Nationals. So, keep your head up and look forward to September shows. I'm looking forward to seeing you.

TRBA Youth Commitee

Texas is preparing to have another large showing of youth contestants at the ARBA Convention. This year the ARBA convention is in Reno, Nevada on October 29-November 2, 2022. Information regarding all youth contests is available on the ARBA website. Even if you are unable to attend, there are several contests that do not require attendance to participate such as the Achievement & Management contests. Please take note of the important youth contests deadlines of August 20th (postmark) and September 1st (online). You MUST be registered as an Individual to be on the State Teams. If it's even a possibility of attending, please enter the contests by the deadline. There is no cost to do so. We can always scratch you, but once the deadline passes there is no adding contestants.

The TRBA Youth Committee is planning on hosting educational programs to assist in Team Texas Youth preparations and will also have a Breed ID Contest at the Mid-Tex Show in Belton on September 10th. Be sure to participate and practice before Reno. Good luck to everyone this fall show season!

Respectfully,
Jennifer Schimpf, TRBA Youth Committee Chair

Hot Weather Tips

Amanda Jones, DVM

It's that time of year that every rabbit breeder in TX dreads: Summer. Summer came early and hot this year and I suspect that every breeder, regardless of their set up type, will be struggling with the heat by August, if not already. We, ourselves, have already have one A/C malfunction (twice!) and have invested in running a back up A/C full time. Thankfully, no losses occurred at this time. Let's review some strategies for managing this killer heat depending on your set up and some tips to make it through.

Garage/Sheds:

This is one of our more common set ups and works fantastic most of the year. However, sheds can turn into ovens very quickly when A/C failure occurs. Rabbits are hard on A/Cs, but deep cleaning regularly (filters, condensers, etc.) can prolong the life of your A/C. This is the problem we ran into with ours. We had focused on the filters only for the past 6 months and unbeknownst to us the condenser and other internal components had gotten rather filthy. We used YouTube videos to help us do a very deep cleaning and it's running great! We have also installed a secondary portable A/C that exhausts out of a window to reduce the workload on our primary A/C and to serve as a back up in case of failure. We are also running numerous fans to aid in air circulation, but do be advised that this can increase air particles and impact your A/C.

It's important to help your A/C when it's working so hard. The best way is to make sure your shed is well insulated and to keep your rabbitry clean! Groom those bunnies to reduce hair from molt flying around and sweep daily to reduce air particles. Many A/Cs will fail this summer, consider purchasing a back up now while they are still on the shelf and a temperature sensor to alert you if temps start creeping up in your shed.

Barn/Outdoor set up

Many of our larger breeders keep rabbits in large barns using large Port-A-Cools to control temperature and large industry fans for airflow. These barns may not stay at 68F, but the ones I have visited due a fantastic job keeping rabbits comfortable and alive through the summer. Frozen water bottles can be provided on exceptionally hot afternoons to help reduce heat stress on valuable brood stock. Misting systems can also be used on hot, low-humidity days. Evaporative cooling is extremely effective in dry air. Misting systems can become counter-productive, however, in high humidity.

If your set up is completely outdoors, anticipate losses in your herd. While rabbits can acclimate to a certain degree and some breeds may be more tolerant (TAMUKs), no rabbit is going to handle 6 weeks of 100+ degree days in a row. Make sure your rabbits have plenty of cool water to drink at all times, run fans, add frozen 2-liters rotated daily, and consider moving extremely valuable rabbits indoors.

Rabbits cannot sweat and are extremely sensitive to heat stroke. A rabbit used to indoor temperatures can heat stroke and die on a warm sunny spring day in 30 minutes. Signs of heat stroke include seizures, depression, drooling, incoordination, coma, and death. Heat stroke is usually fatal unless caught extremely quickly and even then, the odds are not great. Prevention is the best strategy. If you do come across a rabbit with signs of heat stroke that is still alive and do not cull it immediately (which is very acceptable), immediately start cooling processes. Use cool, not cold water, to lower the temperature with a focus on the ears. Rabbit's ears are one of their main cooling mechanisms, running blood through the ears to cool it before returning to the body. Cold or ice water will cause the vessels in the skin and ears to vasoconstrict. This will lock the heat inside the body, while the skin become cold. If a rabbit survives heat stroke, be prepared to treat diarrhea afterwards. Rabbits should be brought inside and given hay and plenty of cool water to drink. Antibiotics are not recommended to try and prevent diarrhea.

Heat stroke in rabbit can look identical to RHDV-2, down to bloody noses and free blood in the chest and belly at necropsy. You cannot distinguish between a heat stroke death and RHDV-2 death without further testing. However, you can use other indicators to determine which kind you likely experienced. If your A/C went out and you came home to 20 bunnies dead, heat stroke is the clear culprit. If, however, you experience a handful of death one day, another handful a few days later, and the A/C seems to be working okay, consider that RHDV-2 is a possibility. If you are unsure about what kind of death events you may be experiencing, reach out to your vet or myself to discuss getting an RHDV-2 test performed by the TAHC/USDA.
